The Chairman made a few remarks explanatory of the objects of the meeting, in which he stated that this was a meeting of those who were in favor of free speech and of the perpe-tuity of this glorious Union. They had come from other States with a heart warm for their country, and with the determination to perpe uste the institutions of our country. They had found those here who were trying to prevent free speech in the Federal Metropolis. One among them, to-night, had recently been in-sulted, by one of those holding sympathy with those who were in arms against the Union, and who was thrown into prison for daring to pro-claim his sentiments. He claimed the right of free speech on the soil of Washington, the cap-tal of the United States.

The following preamble and resolution were

The following preamine and resolution were offered, and adopted unanimously:

Whereas the preservation, protection, and transmission of our free institutions to posterity, and the support of the Government, as a necessary incident to the procurement of that result, is a paramount object, which demands our united and vigorous co-operation; and whereas free speech and a free press are the means by which the prejudices and and mistaken views of the deluded dupes of the slaveocracy are to be disabused:

Resolved. That while treason is rife in our nidst, and traitors are moving armies to secure its triumph, we, the loyal citizens of the Union, are called upon, by every consideration of patriotism, to leave no means unemployed to pro tect the Capitol, and preserve the Union and archives of the nation from threatened destruction; and that we pledge to the Government and military authorities of the nation our most cordial and hearty support.

Able and eloquent speeches were delivered in support of the resolution, by C. B. Denio, Esq., of Illinois; General Nye, of New York; General James H. Lane, of Kansas; and Mr. Vinton, of Wisconsin. We regret that want of room compels us to defer the publication of these speeches, but they will appear in full in CHIMINAL COURT .- Judge Merrick presiding. Yesterday Judge Merrick presiding.

Yesterday Judge Merrick delivered an opinion upon the demurrer of the counsel for Godard Bailey to the indictment pending in this court against him, overruling the demurrer.

The defendant was then arraigned on four several indictments, each of which contains a count for abstracting count for larceny and a count for abstracting papers and documents, the property of the Government. He pleaded not guilty. A fifth indictment, charging Bailey with conspiracy, is pending, on which he was not arraigned. Mr. Carlisle, for defendant, stated that there were two absent witnesses important to the de ence-one was the Hou. Jacob Thompson, and fence—one was the tion. Jacob-Hompson, and the other Wm. H. Russell—and asked for a con-tinuance till the next term of the court, Mr. Ould had no objection to postponing the case for a few days, but should oppose a continuance, and hoped it would not be granted.

The court said it would be necessary to produce a proper affidavit. The counsel for the defence then retired for a few minutes, and upon their return presented an affidavit setting forth that the accused would not be able to secure the presence of either Russell or Thompson for some weeks to come; that Russell is fully acquainted with the whole transaction and will state everything in connection there with; that he will testify that the accused did not intend to appropriate the bonds to his own use, and that he was not to receive any benefit from them; that they were not in the nature use, and that he of a theft, and that they were not taken with a fraudulent intent; that it will be necessary to have him in attendance, that he may disprove any error that may bereafter be alleged; also, that Thompson will show that the bonds with any fraudulent intent.

Mr. Ould said that he was willing to allow a sufficient postponement to enable Mr. Russell to come from New York to this city. Mr. Carlisle stated that Mr. Russell had late-departed for Kansas.

Mr. Ould said he had one of the regularlyempanelled jurymen who would swear that he had seen him on Pennsylvania avenue last Sunday. Mr. Thompson had stated to him, (Mr. Ould,) before he left Washington, that he would not be present at the trial, particularly as he could testify to nothing but what hundreds of others could.

motion for a continuance was furthe argued by Mr. Carlisle and Mr. Ould; after which, the court ordered the case to be continued until the June term of the court, the bail to remain as at present. John Foley was then brought into court to receive sentence for the murder of Michael Murphy. When ordered to stand up, he was asked by the court if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him, in accordance with the verdict of the jury; he merely answered, "The Lord's will be done." The judge then after a few series be done." The judge then, after a few very feeling remarks, in which he recommended him mercy of his God, sentenced him to be hung on the second Friday after the rising of the next term of the Circuit Court, which commences its term on the first Monday in May Prospectus of the National Republican.

Believing that the time has arrived when the to be fartly represented in the daily press of the National Metropolis, we have embarked in the enterprise of supplying the citizens of the District of Codomba with a daily publication, under the title of the "National Republican."

In its political department, this journal will advocate and defend the principles of the Republican party, and endeavor to disabuse the public mind of grounders prejudices which have been aggedered against it, by the faise accosations of its enemies. Having the urmost confidence that the administration of Mr. Lincoln will be such as to merit our approbation, we expect to yield it a cordial, but not a servile support. In the great issue that is likely to be made with his administration, by the evemies of the Republican party, the people of Washington and the District of Columbia have more at stake than the people of any other portion of our common country. We believe that to support Mr. Lincoln's administralican party, and endeavor to disabuse the public of any other portion of our common country, believe that to support Mr. Lincoln's adminis tion will be synonymous with maintaining the in-tegrity of the Federal Union, against the machin-ations of those who would rend it a under. No one can doubt upon which side of this issue the people of Washington will be found, when they come to realize that it is fairly forced upon them. We feel confident, therefore, that in yielding to the administration of Mr. Lincoln a cordial support, we shall have the sympathy of an immense majority of the people of this District and vicin-
